Around the World in 90 Minutes: (+ Extra Time and Penalties) David Winner

While only relatively few football fans managed to get a match ticket for the 2006 World Cup in Germany, billions of people watched it on TV screens all around the globe. Acclaimed football writer David Winner decided it was time to get off his sofa and join them. His quest: to circle the globe in just four weeks and watch as the planet went World Cup crazy. Travelling from Gdansk to Seoul, from Buenos Aires to Rome, joining in the drama of the World Cup in nation after nation while battling flu, exhaustion, and agonizingly intense jet-lag, David soon realizes he is watching the people as much as the games themselves—the differences in their reactions to victory, defeat, tragedy, and even the odd draw. Whether it be the rueful resignation of drunken Poles or the ecstatic jubilation of excited Koreans, the way people celebrate or commiserate the World Cup seems to bring out our national characters and stories in a way that not much else can. This heartfelt, humorous, and ultimately poignant account of David Winner's travels is a book by and for the true fan. He reminds readers that, despite the tears, headbutts, and early exits, the World Cup is for its spectators a truly global experience, managing, for just four weeks every four years, to unite all sports fans.
